

Flexibly accessed pension payment: repayment claim (tax year 2022 to 2023)

About this form

Use this form to claim back tax if the following applies:

- you've flexibly accessed your pension
- you've only taken part of your pension pot and will not be taking regular payments
- the pension body is unable to make any tax refund

If you're not a UK resident for tax purposes you do not need to complete this form. Instead, go to www.gov.uk/tax-foreign-income/taxed-twice or phone the Taxes Helpline on 0300 200 3300.

So that we can make sure we repay the right amount of tax to you, complete this form with details of any other income that you expect to receive during the tax year. If you do not know the final figures enter the most accurate estimates you can.

If you fill in a Self Assessment (SA) Tax Return:

- do not include any estimated SA income in your claim, unless you want us to include this in calculating your repayment
- you'll still need to pay any balancing payments owed and payments on account when due, you can ask us to use your repayment to lower your payments on account
- include any repayment you've received on your next SA tax return
- you must let us know when you no longer need to complete a SA tax return

If you've got PAYE and SA income, we'll not include any SA income in calculating your repayment, unless you ask us to do so.

We'll make checks at the end of the tax year and contact you if the amount is different.

We recommend that you keep this paperwork until these checks are complete.

What to do now

UK pension income

We'll ask about State Pension details at question 14.

This includes income from:

- pension annuities
- workplace
- occupational and personal pensions
- small pension (trivial commutation)
- flexible pension payments paid as lump sums
- pension death benefit lump sum payments

Customers filling in this form should not include non-taxable income in this section so any lump sum death benefit payment that is tax free, should not be declared.

Enter the full amount of any UK pension income that you expect to get before tax is taken off and the taxable part of the flexible pension payment or pension death benefit lump sum payment.

The taxable amount will be shown on any letter or payment slip received from your pension provider.

For more information on how your pension income is taxed, go to www.gov.uk/tax-on-pension

13 Have you or do you expect to receive income from any UK pension during the tax year 2022 to 2023?

No If No, go to question 14

Yes If Yes, fill in the table below

Pension payer's full name and address	Full amount of any UK pension income you expect to receive before tax is taken off

Details of pension flexibility payments paid as lump sums

Do not include any non-taxable element of the payment

Name of pension company making the flexibility payment	Tax deducted	Taxable lump sum

Taxable state benefits

The most common taxable state benefits are:

- taxable Incapacity Benefit
- Jobseeker's Allowance
- State Pension
- taxable Employment and Support Allowance
- taxable Carer's Allowance

If you put off claiming your State Pension and you've received or expect to receive a lump sum this tax year you should include the amount in this section. For more information on benefits and a full list of all taxable state benefits, go to www.gov.uk/income-tax/taxfree-and-taxable-state-benefits

List each type of taxable state benefit and the amount you get or expect to get separately.

To work out the amount you'll get, multiply the amount of your regular payment by the number of payments you expect to get in the tax year.

14 Do you expect to receive any taxable state benefits during the tax year 2022 to 2023?

No If No, go to question 15

Yes If Yes, fill in the table below

Name of taxable state benefit	Full amount of any taxable state benefits you expect to receive before tax is taken off

Taxed interest on UK savings and investment income

As well as bank and building society interest, include interest from other deposit takers and interest paid by:

- UK authorised unit trusts (AUTs)
- open-ended investment companies (OEICs)
- National Savings and Investment products such as fixed rate Guaranteed Income or Growth Bonds
- investment trusts
- Payment Protection Insurance (PPI) compensation payments

The bank should have sent you statements showing the interest paid.

Only enter details of any interest that will be taxed before you receive it.

If you've a joint account only enter your share, usually 50 percent of the interest received.

These investments sometimes pay dividends. If this applies then you'll need to answer the questions under Dividends from UK companies. For more information on bank and building society accounts, go to www.gov.uk/apply-tax-free-interest-on-savings

15 Do you expect to receive taxed interest on UK savings and investment income during the tax year 2022 to 2023?

How we use your information

HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) is a Data Controller under the Data Protection Act 2018. We hold information for the purposes specified in our notification to the Information Commissioner, including the assessment and collection of tax and duties, the payment of benefits and the prevention and detection of crime, and may use this information for any of them.

We may get information about you from others, or we may give information to them. If we do, it will only be as the law permits to:

- check the accuracy of information
- prevent or detect crime
- protect public funds

We may check information we receive about you with what is already in our records. This can include information provided by you, as well as by others, such as other government departments or agencies and overseas tax and customs authorities. We'll not give information to anyone outside HMRC unless the law permits us to do so. For more information go to www.gov.uk/hmrc and look for Data Protection Act within the Search facility.
